ABOUT SARA

Sara has approximately 15 years of experience in public accounting auditing not-for-profits, government entities, school organizations, manufacturing, construction, healthcare, and technology businesses. She serves as a liaison between the partner, client, and professional staff. Sara has extensive experience in conducting financial statement audits, reviews, and compilations for companies, not-for-profit organizations, and employee benefit plans. She also provides clients with accounting solutions for business issues, recommending and implementing process improvements, and internal controls. Sara also helps in developing training aids and acting as an instructor or discussion leader in professional development programs within the firm. In addition, she has more than four years of experience serving in controllership roles for companies pursuing initial public offerings or undergoing turnaround situations.
